Dear Healthcare Professional,

Just like most rural hospitals, our facility sometimes struggles to find good technologists. When we decide to utilize agencies for permanent recruitment, we know it's an expensive decision. It's hard to know which company will provide a service that is reliable, and which company just wants to make a quick buck.

If you have yet to find a search firm that provides reliable service, then I would highly recommend you try RadSciences Group. I'm happy to say that our hospital now uses them on a regular basis. The honest approach in their representation is a warm welcome based upon the experience we've had in the past, and their courteous service makes it a pleasure to work with them. However, we continue to work with RadSciences Group for one primary reason. Results!

I would be happy to provide you with specific details on my experience in working with RadSciences Group. I would highly recommend them to any hospital seeking good and reliable service.

Sincerely,

Cheryl Gebhart, SPHR
